Anti-wrinkle Injectables

Anti-wrinkle treatments are a quick, non-surgical option for smoothing out fine lines and wrinkles on the upper face and in other advanced areas which can be discussed during your consultation.

Injections are placed into the muscles underneath the skin to ease them into a state of relaxation. This effectively softens the appearance and reveals a fresh and natural looking you.

Profhilo® and Profhilo® Structura

Profhilo® is used to treat skin laxity and helps refresh the face and neck. It hydrates the skin and has a stimulatory effect on the cells producing collagen and elastin to help tighten and lift the skin, improving skin quality giving a more youthful look.

Profhilo® Structura targets superficial fat cells. The unique properties work to stimulate dormant fat cells, encouraging them to "wake up". Essentially, these fat cells begin to behave as they did in their younger years, resulting in visibly lifted skin, enhanced jawline contour, and reduced nasolabial heaviness.
